

This is a digital copy of a book that was preserved for generations on library shelves before it was carefully scanned by Google as part of a project to make the world's books discoverable online.

It has survived long enough for the copyright to expire and the book to enter the public domain. A public domain book is one that was never subject to copyright or whose legal copyright term has expired. Whether a book is in the public domain may vary country to country. Public domain books are our gateways to the past, representing a wealth of history, culture and knowledge that's often difficult to discover.

Marks, notations and other marginalia present in the original volume will appear in this file - a reminder of this book's long journey from the publisher to a library and finally to you.

Usage guidelines

Google is proud to partner with libraries to digitize public domain materials and make them widely accessible. Public domain books belong to the public and we are merely their custodians. Nevertheless, this work is expensive, so in order to keep providing this resource, we have taken steps to prevent abuse by commercial parties, including placing technical restrictions on automated querying.

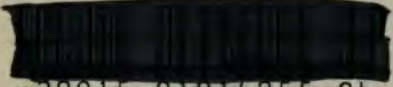

We also ask that you:

- + Make non-commercial use of the files We designed Google Book Search for use by individuals, and we request that you use these files for personal, non-commercial purposes.
- + Refrain from automated querying Do not send automated queries of any sort to Google's system: If you are conducting research on machine translation, optical character recognition or other areas where access to a large amount of text is helpful, please contact us. We encourage the use of public domain materials for these purposes and may be able to help.
- + Maintain attribution The Google "watermark" you see on each file is essential for informing people about this project and helping them find additional materials through Google Book Search. Please do not remove it.
- + Keep it legal Whatever your use, remember that you are responsible for ensuring that what you are doing is legal. Do not assume that just because we believe a book is in the public domain for users in the United States, that the work is also in the public domain for users in other countries. Whether a book is still in copyright varies from country to country, and we can't offer guidance on whether any specific use of any specific book is allowed. Please do not assume that a book's appearance in Google Book Search means it can be used in any manner anywhere in the world. Copyright infringement liability can be quite severe.

About Google Book Search

Google's mission is to organize the world's information and to make it universally accessible and useful. Google Book Search helps readers discover the world's books while helping authors and publishers reach new audiences. PREFAZIONE.

Mi è stato affidato l'incarico di preparare un nuovo Dizionario italiano-inglese, ed inglese-italiano. In un' intrapresa come questa, non si può sperare di far altro che evitare importanti omissioni e gravi errori, e così render l'opera utile quanto è possibile a tutti quelli che si dedicano allo studio delle due lingue. In questa nuova compilazione, moltissime parole che sono poco usate, e forse poco conosciute, sono state omesse, come pure molte altre che sono sparse qua e là nei vecchi autori, ma che possono oramai considerarsi come antiquate. Per la parte italiana ho voluto schivare tutti i vocaboli che non sono puramente toscani; e la mia lunga dimora in Firenze, ove la lingua è parlata in tutta la sua purezza, e le opere dei più riputati filologi italiani delle quali mi sono sempre giovato, hanno certamente contribuito a raggiungere il mio scopo.

Fu desiderio dell' Editore che io dovessi sforzarmi d' indicare la pronunzia di tutti i vocaboli inglesi mediante suoni che più si approssimano a quelli della lingua italiana. Questo io ho fatto meglio che ho potuto. Ma siccome vi sono molte parole inglesi che non hanno suoni corrispondenti nella favella italiana, fu impossibile soddisfare interamente questo desiderio: le dette difficoltà sono enumerate in fine di questa Prefazione, ed è indicato il modo di spiegarle; ma per apprendere la vera pronunzia di qualsiasi lingua, è d' uopo ricorrere ad un maestro nativo del paese in cui vien parlata, e non ad uno che appartiene ad altra nazione; essendo cosa rarissima il trovare un forestiero che non abbia qualche difetto nella pronunzia; ed, ammesso una volta un errore, lo sradicarlo diviene opera troppo ardua.

Rispetto all' ortografia di molte parole inglesi, sfortunatamente è ben lungi dall' essere uniforme, anche fra gli scrittori di maggiore autorità: le parole derivate dal latino, per esempio, che hanno la terminazione in or, e che sono in fatto parole latine, come honor, color, vigor, ec., sono da molti scritte con un u: honour, colour, vigour, ec.: la ragione che si dà di questa, che a me pare difettosa ortografia, è, che vengono le dette parole a noi mediante la lingua francese, in cui sono scritte con un u; ma se tale argomento è valido, si dovrebbero scrivere anche con un e; ed inoltre vi sono altre parole, come horror, orrore; terror, terrore; actor, attore; che hanno certainemente la medesima derivazione, in cui l'u non si trova mai impiegato. Per evitare le incoerenze, ho scritto tutte le parole di questa specie, che sono derivate dal latino, con il solo o; mentre nelle parole che non sono derivate da quella lingua, come Saviour, Salvatore; endeavour, sforzo, ec., ho pensato bene di far entrare l'u, come più analogo alla nostra lingua.

Un'altra anomalia esiste in quella classe di parole, in cui la consonante finale, essendo breve, è, nell'aggiungervi le terminazioni in ing, ed, er, ec., da molti scrittori raddoppiata; come in travelling, viaggiando, invece di traveling; bigotted, bigotto, invece di bigoted; traveller, viaggiatore, invece di traveler ec. Questa anomalia è sfortunatamente molto diffusa; e per difenderla si può quasi adoperare l'autorità di Orazio: si volet usus; ma a me pare tanto viziosa in principio che, dopo matura riflessione, ho determinato d'adoperare il sistema contrario, seguendo l'autorità di diversi autori, e, fra altri, del dottor Webster, nel suo Dizionario moderno. Lindley Murray, nella sua Grammatica, che da molti è considerata autorità sufficiente, dà la giusta regola per l'ortografia delle parole di questa natura, scrivendo:

« Quando le parole che terminano con una sola consonante, » preceduta da una sola vocale, e che hanno l'accento sull'ultima » sillaba, prendono un'altra sillaba, che comincia con una consonante, si raddoppia in queste la consonante: come, to abet, ajutare, an abettor, ajutatore; to begin, principiare, a beginner, un principiante; a fen, palude, fenney paludoso; wit, spirito, wittry, spiritoso; thin, magro, thinnyish, piuttosto magro, ec. »

Webster, nel suo Dizionario, segue la medesima via. Egli dice: « È una regola che si estende a molte centinaia di casi, che, » nell'aggiungere ad una parola le sillabe ing, ed, er, ec., la consonante, nella terminazione di una parola, viene raddoppiata quando » l'accento cade sull'ultima sillaba; come, per esempio, in forgetting, » dimenticando, beginning, principiando; ma, » aggiunge questo autore, « non viene raddoppiata, quando l'accento cade su qualunque sillaba precedente, come in benefiting, facendo del bene, » gardener, giardiniere, ec. È stata violata questa regola in circa » cinquanta parole che terminano con un' l, e derivano da parole » aventi l'l raddoppiata, come traveller ec. »

Per tale ragione, scrive lo stesso autore nel medesimo modo tutte le parole analoghe, come travelling, canceled, leveler, counselor, duelist, marvelous, ec.

Ho pensato bene di seguire il medesimo sistema: mi pare che la regola sia fondata sopra un principio molto logico; e, quantunque riconosca in tutta la sua forza la regola fondata sull'uso, nonostante, quando quest'uso è chiaramente vizioso, deve anche questo sottomettersi alla ragione. Inoltre un sistema dev'essere sempre consentaneo a sè stesso; e, quantunque tutti scrivano preferring, che vien derivato da prefer, preferire, dove l'accento cade sull'ultima sillaba, con due r; nessuno si avventurerebbe a scrivere con la medesima lettera raddoppiata proffering, che deriva da profferire, proffer, dove l'accento non cade sull'ultima sillaba.

Rispetto alle parole, derivate da monosillabi aventi la loro terminazione in una doppia l, come fulness, pienezza; skilful, abile ec., ho seguito la regola data da Lindley Murray, di omettere, cioè, un' l; così pure nelle parole composte handful, manata; dunghil, letamajo; foretel, predire; chilblain, gelone ec.

Le parole che terminano con e muta, come blame, biasimo; cure, guarigione; sense, senso ec., quando vengono incorporate con able ed ible, perdono l'e muta: blamable, biasimevole; curable, sanabile; sensible, sensibile: salvo quando l'e è preceduta da un c, od un g dolce; come in change, cangiamento; peace, pace; che fanno changeable, variabile; peaceable, pacifico, ec.

Ma quando gli aggiunti ing od ish si trovano uniti alle parole che finiscono con un' e muta, quest'e è sempre omessa: come place, posto, placing; lodge, loggia, lodging; slave, schiavo, slavish; prude, troppo prudente, prudish, ec.

Quanto alla pronunzia delle parole inglesi, il suono della lettera i non esiste nella favella italiana; quello che più ad essa somiglia è ai: ma queste lettere devono essere pronunziate come se fossero una sola lettera, e con la più gran brevità possibile; la lingua inoltre deve muoversi rapidamente in avanti, e non essere avvicinata nè ai denti superiori nè agli inferiori.

Il suono delle parole che si pronunziano come err, errare; first, il primo; come, venire; hunt, cacciare ec.; è pure ignoto alla lingua italiana. Per queste parole, ed altre moltissime che hanno il medesimo suono, ho dovuto ricorrere alla lingua francese: le parole cœur, cuore; sœur, sorella; ed altre simili, in cui si trovano unite le vocali eu, avendo un suono del tutto corrispondente a quello delle suddette parole inglesi.

Quanto alle parole inglesi in cui trovasi il g, avendo questa lettera un suono più aspro di quello della medesima lettera italiana, l'ho fatto precedere da un d, che darà un'adattata idea di quel suono inglese.

Col th sorge un'altra difficoltà; perchè il suono di quelle lettere non esiste affatto in italiano; oltre di che esistono due suoni distinti di questa unione di lettere in inglese: uno meno aspro e meno usato nel principio delle sillabe, che fassi col portare la lingua ai denti superiori, come the, il, lo, la ec.; this, questo; that, quello ec. ec.: l'altro più aspro, e che somiglia a tutti i suoni del c seguito dalle vocali e od i nella lingua spagnola; e questo si fa col portare la lingua ai denti inferiori. Questi due suoni trovansi segnati con il numero 1 il primo, e con il numero 2 il secondo.

La maggior parte delle sillabe è pure indicata con due segni - e"; il primo indica che il suono è lungo, ed il secondo, al contrario, che è breve: così, per esempio, l'a nella parola blame, biasimo, è lunga, e viene pronunziata come la prima e nella parola speme; mentre nella parola fan, ventaglio, è breve, e pronunziata quasi, ma pure alquanto più strettamente, come l'a nella parola anello; l'e, nella parola here, qui, è lunga, e dev'essere pronunziata come l'i nella parola dire; mentre nella parola pen, penna, è breve, e deve pronunziarsi come l'e nella medesima voce penna; l'i nella parola fire, è lungo, e, come ho detto di sopra, ha molto del suono delle lettere ai unite, e pronunziate con tutta la brevità possibile; mentre nella parola in (in) è breve ed è pronunziato precisamente come l'i nella medesima parola italiana in; l'o nella parola more (più) è lungo, e si pronunzia come l'o nella parola coro; mentre nella parola hot (caldo) è breve, e pronunziasi come l'o nella parola botta; e finalmente l'u nella parola use (uso) è lunga, e vien pronunziata come l'unione delle vocali iu nella parola fiume; mentre nella voce grunt (grugnire) è breve, e prende il suono delle vocali unite eu in francese nella parola cœur (cuore) non avendo questo suono alcun corrispondente nella lingua italiana.

Rispetto ai segni - e ^, che si troveranno messi sopra la prima vocale di ciascuna sillaba, secondo l'uso degli Italiani di accentuare sempre le vocali, sarà d'uopo osservare che, siccome l'accento cade, per la più parte, in inglese sulla consonante che segue, devono i segni suddetti considerarsi come appartenenti all'intera sillaba, e non solamente alla lettera sopra la quale saranno posti.

Sarà bene anche notare che, nel mettere l'accento su molte parole che hanno la terminazione in ing, ish, ded, e ted, come, per esempio, fail'ing, fail'ring, fain'tish, was'pish, woun'ded, wan'ted, ec. ec. non ho voluto indicare la radice di dette parole, che sarebbe fail', fair', fain't, wasp', wound', want', ec.; ma piuttosto far sentire il suono che si dà nella pronunzia delle medesime, essendo questa la cosa principale da considerarsi in un Dizionario il cui scopo è l'indicare dove cade l'accento nella pronunzia delle parole, e non trattare della derivazione delle voci.

Rimane ora solamente da osservare che, ogni volta che l'e trovasi stampata in carattere corsivo, questa lettera deve sempre essere considerata come muta; e che quando l'accento acuto vien posto sopra l'é, deve questa, al contrario, essere sempre pronunziata.

Sotto la lettera a, nella seconda parte di questo Dizionario si troverà un errore nella pronunzia del dittongo au inglese, che debesì sempre pronunziare come l'o molto aperto ed alquanto sostenuto nella parola oro, e mai come l'au italiana, che ha due suoni separati, come in Aurora, Autunno, flauto, ec. Non fu scoperto questo errore quando v'era ancora tempo di correggerlo; ma basterà segnalarlo a tutti coloro che si daranno la pena di leggere questa Prefazione.

Ho procurato d'ottenere la maggior possibile precisione, per facilitare la pronunzia dell'inglese agli studenti; non posso però sperare di non essere mai caduto in errore. Per questo invoco l'indulgenza del pubblico, che s'accorgerà facilmente delle difficoltà che ha dovuto incontrare uno straniero nell'eseguire un lavoro di questa natura.

PICCOLA GRAMMATICA INGLESE.

DELL' ARTICOLO DEFINITO THE

(il, lo, la, i, gli, le).

L'articolo definito inglese è diverso dall'articolo definito italiano in ciò che, mentre il primo non fa altro che restringere il senso del sostantivo, il secondo s'impiega anche per indicarne il genere ed il numero — segue per ciò che non dovrebbe mai l'articolo inglese impiegarsi con un sostantivo quando è preso in senso generale:

La virtù è stimabile.

Virtue is estimable.

L'uomo è mortale.

Man is mortal.

Non s'impiega neppure l'articolo definito davanti ai nomi propri:

*L'*Inghilterra e la Francia sono separate dalla Manica. England and France are separated by the Channel.

*L'*Italia è un bel paese.

Italy is a fine country.

ECCEZIONI. — L'articolo però s'impiega

1° davanti ai nomi propri al plurale:

Ho veduto le Alpi.

I have seen the Alps.

Ho letto i due Racines.

I have read the two Racines.

2° Davanti ai nomi degli oceani, dei mari, e dei fiumi:

Ho traversato *l'*Atlantico.

I have crossed the Atlantic.

Il Mediterraneo è un mare interno.

The Mediterranean is an inland sea.

Il Tamigi è un fiume molto utile.

The Thames is a very useful river.

3° Davanti ai nomi seguenti:

La Morea.

The Morea.

La Aia.

The Hague.

Il Levante.

The Levant.

Il Palatinato.

The Palatinate.

Il Carnatico.

The Carnatic.

La Crimea.

The Crimea.

La Penisola.

The Peninsula.

*L'*Avana.

The Havannah.

*L'*Arcipelago.

The Archipelago.

Il Righi.

The Righi.

L'articolo definito non si mette in inglese davanti ai sostantivi che indicano un titolo, quando saranno questi seguiti da un nome proprio:

La regina Vittoria.

-Queen Victoria.

Il re Vittorio Emanuele.

-King Victor Emmanuel.

Diz. Ital.-Ingl. — 1.

ECCEZIONI. — L' articolo si mette

1° davanti ai nomi che indicano un titolo, quando vien separato dal nome da una preposizione:

Il duca di Borgogna.	The duke of Burgundy.
Il conte di Fiandra.	The count of Flanders.

2° Davanti ai nomi seguenti, anche quando saranno seguiti d'un nome proprio:

L'imperatore Luigi.	The emperor Louis.
L'imperatrice Matilda.	The empress Matilda.
Lo czar Pietro.	The czar Peter.
La czarina Caterina.	The czarina Catherine.
L'arciduca Ferdinando.	The archduke Ferdinand.
L'arciduchessa Luisa.	The archduchess Louisa.
L'abate Tommaso.	The abbot Thomas.
La badessa Angelica.	The abbess Angelica.
Il cavaliere Bayard.	The chevalier Bayard.
Il vizir Mustafà.	The vizier Mustapha.
Il mogul Hyder.	The mogul Hyder.
L'eremita Paolo.	The hermit Paul.

Non si mette neppure l' articolo in inglese davanti ai nomi di lingue, di scienze, d' arti ec.

Mio fratello studia l'inglese e la Matematica.	My brother studies -English and- Mathematics.
Mia sorella parla bene l'italiano.	My sister speaks -Italian well.

Nè davanti ai colori presi sostantivamente in senso generale ed indeterminato:

Il nero ed il bianco sono colori diversi.	-Black and white are contrary colors.
Il rosso fa più male agli occhi che il verde.	-Red hurts the eyes more than -green.

Ma si pone l' articolo definito davanti ai nomi che indicano in sè tutta la loro specie:

La luna prende la sua luce dal sole.	The moon borrows her light from the sun.
Il nord, il ponente.	The north, the west.

Sono eccezioni

1° i nomi seguenti:

Il Paradiso.	- paradise.	L' inferno.	- hell.
Il cielo.	- heaven.	la natura.	- nature.

2° I nomi degli elementi, presi in senso generale:

Gli antichi riconoscevano quattro elementi, l'aria, la terra, il fuoco, e l'acqua.	The ancients acknowledged four elements, -air, -earth, -fire, and water.
--	--

3° I nomi delle stagioni, impiegati in senso generale:

La primavera è più piacevole dell' inverno.	-Spring is more pleasant than -winter.
I caldi dell'estate producono i frutti dell'autunno.	The heats of -summer produce the fruits of -autumn.

Si mette pure l'articolo davanti alle parole che designano tutto un popolo od una setta intiera:

Gli Americani.	The Americans.
I Tedeschi.	The Germans.
I Protestanti.	The Protestants.
I cattolici romani.	The Roman catholics.

L'articolo anche s'impiega davanti ad un nome comune al numero di meno, ogni volta che tal nome indica un'intiera specie:

Il leone è il re delle bestie.	The lion is the king of beasts.
Il marinaio è spensierato e prodigo.	The sailor is thoughtless and prodigal.

Le parole uomo e donna sono eccettuate da questa regola:

L'uomo è mortale.	- Man is mortal.
La donna dev'essere la compagna dell'uomo.	- Woman ought to be the companion of man.

Ammettono pure l'articolo gli adiettivi impiegati sostantivamente al plurale:

I virtuosi sono i soli felici.	The virtuous alone are happy.
I ricchi devono aiutare i poveri.	The rich ought to assist the poor.

L'adiettivo usato come soprannome dimanda sempre l'articolo:

Alfredo il Grande.	Alfred the Great.
Pietro il crudele.	Peter the Cruel.

I numeri ordinali richiedono l'articolo:

Enrico - primo.	Henry the first.
Carlo - quinto.	Charles the fifth.

Anche gli adiettivi e gli avverbi al comparativo nelle frasi in cui la seconda parte della proposizione è la conseguenza della prima:

- Più è ricco, - più è avaro.	The richer he is, the more avaricious he becomes.
- Più diventerete amabile, - più sarete amato.	The more amiable you are, the more you will be beloved.

L'articolo definito, che vien posto in italiano davanti ai nomi che indicano un membro qualunque del corpo, oppure delle facoltà dello spirito, si traduce in inglese con l'adiettivo pronominale possessivo:

Pietro si è rotta la gamba.	Peter has broken his leg.
Il maestro si è tagliato il dito.	The master has cut his finger.

ECCEZIONE. — Quando il nome che indica la persona della quale si designa una parte del corpo è il soggetto di un verbo passivo o l'oggetto diretto di un verbo attivo, di cui il nome che indica una parte del corpo è l'oggetto indiretto; in altre parole quando la persona riceve l'azione invece di farla:

Baciò suo figlio sulla fronte.	He kissed his son on the forehead.
Il maestro mi dette un colpo sulla testa.	The master gave me a blow on the head.

DELL' ARTICOLO INDEFINITO a, AN

(un, uno, un', una).

L'articolo indefinito a s'impiega sempre quando la parola che segue comincia con una consonante, o con qualche lettera che ha suono di consonante.

Si serve di an quando la parola che segue comincia con una vocale, o con qualche lettera che ha suono di vocale.

Sidovrebbe considerare che è solamente per l'eufonia che si scrive o a o an; e non mai dimenticare la ragione di questa diversità, per evitare gli errori di alcuni scrittori, ed anche di alcuni grammatici, i quali, considerando piuttosto la natura della lettera che il suono che presenta questa all'orecchio, hanno perciò lasciato il principio suddetto, e fatto che an usurpi malamente il posto di a.

Conceduto questo, deve mettersi sempre a,

1° Davanti ad una consonante:

Un sultano.	a sultan.	Un libro.	a book.
Una tavola.	a table.	Una pecora.	a sheep.
Un lion.	a lion.	Una montagna.	a mountain.

2° Davanti ad un' h aspirata, che ha suono di consonante:

Un cavallo.	a horse.	Una casa.	a house.
Una collina.	a hill.	Un cappello.	a hat.
Un cacciatore.	a hunter.	Una speranza.	a hope. ¹

3° Davanti ad un y, che viene sempre considerato come consonante quando trovasi al principio di una sillaba, benchè sia preso come vocale al mezzo od alla fine.

Un giovane.	a youth.	Un giovane.	a young man.
Un tasso.	a yew tree.	Un metro.	a yard. ²
Un anno.	a year.	Un giogo.	a yoke.

4° Davanti ad un w, che si considera pure consonante quando vien posto al principio di una sillaba:

Una donna.	a woman.	Un cameriere.	a waiter.
Un'ostia.	a wafer.	Una passeggiata.	a walk.
Un guerriero.	a warrior.	Un muro.	a wall.

Sino a questo punto non esiste contrarietà fra i grammatici e gli scrittori moderni (quantunque trovisi spesso nei libri stampati nel secolo passato l'articolo an messo davanti ad una parola che comincia con un' h aspirata, come, per esempio, un cavallo, an horse): ma negli esempi seguenti si incontra questa contrarietà, ed an si vede spesso impiegato davanti ad una parola che comincia con vocale, sebbene questa abbia suono di consonante, voglio dire davanti a quelle parole che cominciano con un u lungo, con un e seguito da un u lungo, e con un o in due parole in cui prende questa lettera il suono di un w.

Un uso, un costume.	an use invece di a use.
Un' università.	an university, invece di a university.
Un unicorno.	an unicorn, invece di a unicorn.

¹ La regola di porre a davanti ad un' h aspirata non si applica altro che nei casi dove la parola è di una sola sillaba, ovvero se è di parecchie sillabe, quando l'accento cade sulla prima. Ogni volta che una parola di più sillabe, che comincia con un' h non si accenta sulla prima, si deve farla precedere da a invece di a; così si direbbe: un eroe, a hero; un'azione eroica, a heroic action.

² Misura inglese, meno di tre pollici di un metro francese.

Una pecora.	an ewe, invece di a ewe.
Un eunuco.	an eunuch, invece di a eunuch.
Una riputazione europea.	an European reputation, invece di a European reputation.

In queste parole, come pure in alcune altre, la lettera u suona precisamente come un y, il quale, come è stato già detto, si considera sempre essere consonante al principio delle sillabe, e davanti al quale mettesi sempre un' a. Nessuno, per esempio, direbbe: un giovane, an youth; un tasso, an yew tree; un anno, an year: e pure an use, an university, an unicorn ec., hanno il medesimo suono, ed offendono egualmente l'orecchio.

Per la stessa ragione un' a deve sempre impiegarsi davanti alle parole one e once, che suonano come un w:

Un tale.	Such a one.
Un regno già felice.	A once happy kingdom.

Le parole uno, un, una, un', si esprimono qualche volta in inglese con one, adiettivo numerale, invece di a o an. Accade questo:

1° Ogni volta che l'oggetto designato, per la forza stessa dell'espressione, vien ristretto ad un solo oggetto:

Non mi resta neppure un amico.	I have not one friend left.
Non c'è in tasca un soldo.	I have not one sou in my pocket.

N. B. Si può anche esprimere le frasi di questa natura per mezzo della parola single:

Non mi resta neppure un amico.	I have not a single friend left.
Non c'è in tasca un soldo.	I have not a single sou in my pocket.
Teneva una bottiglia in una mano, ed un bicchierino nell'altra.	He held a bottle in one hand, and a wine-glass in the other.

2° Quando l'articolo non vien unito ad un sostantivo, e quando è seguito da una preposizione:

Datemi una penna.	Give me a pen.
Non ne ho una.	I have not one .
Prestatemi uno scudo.	Lend me a crown.
Non ne ho uno.	I have not one .
Uno de' miei fratelli è ammalato.	One of my brothers is ill.
Uno di questi alberi è vecchio.	One of these trees is old.

Trovano qualche volta gli studenti gran difficoltà nel distinguere in che caso l'articolo a o an, oppure l'adiettivo numerale one dovrebbero impiegarsi, e s'ingannano nell'immaginare che ogni volta che si parla di un solo oggetto bisogna che si adoperi sempre one, invece di a o an; per esempio, nella frase che segue: - Ho veduto un uomo, - lo studente tradurrà assai sovente: I have seen one man. - Ma è cosa chiara che se si concede che questa traduzione sia giusta, si sbandirebbe in effetto l'articolo a o an, perchè quando viene questo impiegato, si parla sempre di un solo oggetto.

La migliore regola che si possa dare sarà forse questa: che ogni volta che si può aggiungere « un certo » per le persone, e « qualunque » per le cose, sarà d'uopo far uso di a o an.

DEL SOSTANTIVO.

Genere.

Le regole per i generi nella lingua inglese sono assai facili, e anche logiche. Il mascolino s'impiega per gli esseri del sesso maschile, il femminile per gli esseri del sesso femminile, ed il neutro per gli oggetti che o non hanno sesso, o il cui sesso è incerto o non vien espresso dalla parola stessa.

MASCOLINO.	MASCULINE.	MASCOLINO.	MASCULINE.
Re.	King.	Legale.	Lawyer.
Uomo.	Man.	Soldato.	Soldier.
Ragazzo.	Boy.	Cavallo.	Horse.
Ecclesiastico.	Clergyman.	Cane.	Dog.
Medico.	Physician.	Leone.	Lion.
FEMMININO.	FEMININE.	FEMMININO.	FEMININE.
Regina.	Queen.	Vergine.	Virgin.
Donna.	Woman.	Cavalla.	Mare.
Ragazza.	Girl.	Leonessa.	Lioness.
NEUTRO.	NEUTER.	NEUTRO.	NEUTER.
Libro.	Book.	Chiave.	Key.
Tavola.	Table.	Pane.	Bread.
Chiesa.	Church.	Prato.	Meadow.
Giorno.	Day.	Mela.	Apple.

Vi sono molte parole del genere femminile che si derivano da altre parole del genere mascolino; di cui darò alcuni esempj:

Imperatore, Imperatrice.	Emperor, Empress.
Czar, Czarina.	Czar, Czarine.
Sultano, Sultana.	Sultan, Sultaness.
Principe, Principessa.	Prince, Princess.
Duca, Duchessa.	Duke, Duchess.
Marchese, Marchesa.	Marquis, Marchioness.
Barone, Baronessa.	Baron, Baroness.

Ve ne sono delle altre a cui si aggiungono le parole man, uomo, e woman, donna, per distinguerne il sesso:

Lattaio, lattaia.	milkman, milkwoman or milkmaid.
Lavorante.	workman, workwoman.

Si trovano delle altre alle quali si mette, o avanti o dopo il nome, un altro nome o pronome:

Canarino.	Canarina.	Cock canary- hen canary.
Passerotto.	Passeretta.	Cock sparrow- hen sparrow.
Somaro.	Somara.	He ass- she ass.
Orso.	Orsa.	He bear- she bear.
Gatto.	Gatta.	Tom cat- she cat.
Bambino.	Bambina.	Male child, female child.
Cameriere.	Cameriera.	Man servant- ladies'-maid.
Pavone.	Pavonessa.	Pea-cock, pea- hen.
Tacchino.	Tacchina.	Turkey cock- hen turkey.

Numero.

Il plurale dei sostantivi si forma in inglese dal singolare, con aggiungere un s:

Sultano.	Sultani.	Sultan, Sultans.
guerra.	guerre.	war, wars.
dominio.	dominj.	dominion, dominions.
padre.	padri.	father, fathers.

È sottoposta questa regola a otto classi di eccezioni.

Prima Classe.

I sostantivi che hanno le loro terminazioni in ch dolce, sh, s, z, e la più parte dei sostantivi in o, formano il loro plurale con aggiungere es, al singolare:

chiesa, chiese.	church, churches.
desiderio, desiderj.	wish, wishes.
bacio, baci.	kiss, kisses.
volpe, volpi.	fox, foxes.
eroe, eroi.	hero, heroes.

Seconda Classe.

I sostantivi che terminano al singolare con y, ogni volta che questa lettera è preceduta da una consonante, formano il loro plurale con cangiare il y in ies:

mosca, mosche.	fly, flies.
signora, signore.	lady, ladies.
spia, spie.	spy, spies.

Ma nei casi dove il y è preceduto da una vocale, si segue la regola generale:

ragazzo, ragazzi.	boy, boys.
chiave, chiavi.	key, keys.
giorno, giorni.	day, days.
denaro, denari.	money, moneys.

Terza Classe.

Incirca nella metà dei sostantivi che finiscono con un f, o con fe, queste terminazioni si mutano al plurale in ves:

moglie, mogli.	wife, wives.
vita, vita.	life, lives.
panino, panini.	loaf, loaves.

L'altra parte segue la regola generale, specialmente i sostantivi che hanno la loro terminazione in ff:

dolore, dolori.	grief, griefs.
manicotto, manicotti.	muff, muffs.
polsino, polsini.	ruff, ruffs.

È pure si trova qualche sostantivo che forma il suo plurale in ambedue le maniere:

bastone, bastoni.	staff, staffs, staves.
covone, covoni.	sheaf, sheafs, sheaves.

Quarta Classe.

Vi sono anche diversi sostantivi che prendono al plurale una terminazione del tutto diversa dal singolare:

uomo, uomini.	man, men.	oca, oche.	goose, geese.
donna, donne.	woman, women.	topo, topi.	mouse, mice.
bambino, bambini.	child, children.	pidocchio, pidocchi.	louse, lice.
piede, piedi.	foot, feet.	dado, dadi.	die, dice.
dente, denti.	tooth, teeth.	soldo, soldi.	penny, pence.

Quinta Classe.

Alcune parole che sono derivate dalle lingue estere, e specialmente dalle lingue morte, conservano il plurale che hanno in quelle lingue:

Raggio, raggi.	Radius, radii.
Arcano, arcani.	Arcanum, Arcana.
Genio, genj.	Genius, genii. ¹
Fenomeno, fenomeni.	Phenomenon, phenomena.

Sesta Classe.

Vi sono pure dei sostantivi che ritengono la medesima terminazione al plurale, che hanno al singolare:

pecora, pecore.	sheep.
daino, daini.	deer.
maiale, maiali.	swine.

Settima Classe.

Delle altre s'impiegano soltanto al singolare:

affare, affari.	business.	sparago, sparagi.	asparagus.
progresso, progressi.	progress.	spinacio, spinaci.	spinage.

Ottava Classe.

Ultimamente delle altre s'impiegano solamente al plurale:

cenere, ceneri.	ashes.	molli.	tongs.
elemosina, elemosine.	alms.	cisoie.	scissors.
soffietti.	bellows.

Caso.

Non esistono in inglese, propriamente parlando, più di due casi, il nominativo, ossia il soggetto della frase, ed il genitivo possessivo. L'accusativo, ossia l'oggetto diretto della frase, vien aggiunto da alcuni grammatici, sebbene prenda sempre la medesima forma che ha il nominativo.

Quanto al genitivo, quando non esprime la possessione, al dativo, ed all'ablativo, ossia agli oggetti indiretti, vengono questi espressi, come in italiano, per mezzo di preposizioni.

Il nominativo è il soggetto della frase:

Pietro ha un cappello nero. Peter has a black hat.

¹ Genio fa genii quando significa un essere immaginario, geniuses, quando si parla del genio di un uomo.

Il possessivo esprime la possessione personale:

Il cappello di Pietro è nero. Peter's hat is black.

L'accusativo è l'oggetto della frase:

Ho veduto Pietro. I have seen Peter.

Il genitivo, quando non è possessivo, è preceduto dalla preposizione of:

Noi parlavamo di Pietro. We were speaking of Peter.

Il dativo è preceduto dalla preposizione to:

Portate questo cappello nero a Pietro. Take this black hat to Peter.

L'ablativo è preceduto dalle preposizioni in, with, from, e by:

Pietro è nel giardino.

Peter is in the garden.

Sono venuto con Pietro.

I have come with Peter.

Ho ricevuto un regalo da Pietro.

I have received a present from Peter.

Questo cappello nero fu fatto da Pietro.

This black hat was made by Peter.

NB. — Il nome al possessivo, con i suoi complementi, precede sempre il nome della cosa posseduta, e l'articolo si sopprime davanti a quest'ultima:

L'amore della mia amata madre. My dear mother's love.

Declinazione di un sostantivo inglese:

Pietro.	Peter .	Pietro.	Peter .
di Pietro.	Peter's , of Peter .	da &c. Pietro.	In , with , from , by Peter .
a Pietro.	to Peter .

DELL' ADIETTIVO.

L'adiettivo inglese, precede generalmente il sostantivo.

Gli adiettivi qualificativi sono invariabili:

Un bell'uomo.	A handsome man.	Una bella donna.	A handsome woman.
Begli uomini.	handsome men.	Belle donne.	handsome women.

Gli adiettivi pronominali dimostrativi, questo e quello, this e that, cangiano le loro terminazioni nel numero del più, ma non quando mutano il genere.

Quest'uomo.	This man.	Quel paese.	That country.
Questi uomini.	These men.	Quei paesi.	Those countries.
Questa donna.	This woman.	Quella città.	That city.
Queste donne.	These women.	Quelle città.	Those cities.

Gli adiettivi pronominali possessivi variano in inglese per il genere, per il numero, e per la persona.

SINGOLARE.	SINGULAR.
1 ^a persona, il mio, la mia, ec.	my .
2 ^a persona, il tuo, la tua, ec.	thy .
3 ^a persona, { mas.	his .
{ fem. il suo, la sua, ec.	her .
{ neu.	its .

	PLURALE.	PLURAL.
1 ^a persona,	il nostro, la nostra, ec.	our.
2 ^a persona,	il vostro, la vostra, ec.	your.
3 ^a persona,	mas. fem. il loro, la loro, ec. neu.	their.

Gli adiettivi pronominali indeterminati, eccettuati due, sono invariabili.

Ecco una lista degli adiettivi indeterminati invariabili con le locuzioni che servono a formare:

Ciascuno, ciascuna, ciascheduno, ciascheduna. Each o every.

Each significa ciascuno di due, o di più.

Ciascuno dei vostri figli. Each of your children.

Every s'impiega per designare ciascun oggetto preso isolatamente fra un numero maggiore di due, e al medesimo tempo indica che si prendono tutte le unità di cui il detto numero si compone:

Tutti i miei amici. Every one of my friends.

Each non s'impiega altro che con un nome nel numero di meno:

Ciascun giorno. each day.
Ciascheduna donna. each woman.

Every può impiegarsi anche con un nome nel plurale, purché sia questo preceduto da un adiettivo numerale:

Un giorno sì, un giorno no. Every two days.

Si dice: ciascuno, ciascuna, each one: ciascuna cosa, each thing: l'uno e l'altro, each other: ognuno, ognuna, every one: ogni cosa, every thing: ogni altro, every other.

EITHER, NEITHER.

O l'uno o l'altro. either.
Nè l'uno nè l'altro. neither.

Either vuol dire uno di due oggetti indicati:

Quale dei due volete? o l'uno o l'altro. Which of the two will you have? Either.

Neither al contrario equivale a nè l'uno nè l'altro.

Non mi piace nè l'uno nè l'altro di questi due uomini. I like neither of these two men.

BOTH.

Both, tutti e due, non si impiega mai per più di due: è l'opposto a either od a neither:

Quale dei due volete? Ambidue. Which of the two will you have? Both.

SOME, ANY.

Qualche, alcuno, alcuna ec. Some, any.

Some ha un senso ristretto e definito:

Datemi del pane.	Give me some bread.
Datemi delle penne.	Give me some pens.

Any ha un senso illimitato ed indefinito:

Avete del pane?	Have you any bread?
Non ne ho.	I have not any. I have none.

Some e any s'impiegano indifferentemente od al singolare od al plurale. Si dice: alcuno, alcuna, some one, some body: alcuni uomini, some men; alcune donne, some women: qualcosa, some thing; qualunque uomo, any man; qualunque donna, any woman: qualunque cosa, any thing: qualunque altro, any other.

Some one, some body, any one, any body, non si impiegano altro che nel numero del meno.

ALL.

Tutto, tutta, ec. All.

All si usa al singolare ed al plurale:

Tutto l'anno.	All the year.
Tutti i miei amici.	All my friends.
Tutti gli altri.	All the others.

SEVERAL.

Parecchi. Several.

Several vien unito solamente con un sostantivo nel numero del più:

Parecchi amici.	Several friends.
Parecchi altri.	Several others.

NO.

Nullo, nulla, nessuno, nessuna ec, No.

No si adopera con un sostantivo, qualunque sia il numero:

Nessun uomo vi crederà.	No man will believe you.
Non si vedeva nessun nemico.	No enemies were seen.

No s'impiega spesso volte invece di any, purchè quest'ultimo sia unito ad una negazione, e il sostantivo che lo modifica sia espresso:

Non ho nessun libro. I have no books.

Si dice: nessuno, no one, nobody; nulla, niente, nothing; nessun altro, no other.

SUCH.

Tale, tali. Such.

Such indica l'analogia: s'impiega egualmente per tutti i due numeri.

Un tale.	Such a one.
Un altro simile.	Such another.
Tali persona.	Such persons.

Gli adiettivi pronominali indefiniti variabili sono one e other; other si declina come segue:

SINGOLARE.		SINGULAR.
Nom.	altro.	Nom.	other.
Poss.	di un altro.	Poss.	other's.
Obj.	altro.	Obj.	other.

One si declina solo al singolare come other.

Si dice: l'un l'altro, one another: più di uno, more than one: molti altri, many others: parecchi altri, several others.

Si possono enumerare anche in questa classe gli adiettivi: poco, little: pochi, few; molto, much: e molti, many, i quali, del pari che altri di questi adiettivi indefiniti, s'impiegano sovente come pronomi.

NB. — Del modo di formare in inglese i gradi di paragone si tiene parola a pag. xxxii.

PRONOMI.

Dei Pronomi personali.

I pronomi personali variano secondo il numero ed il caso; nella terza persona singolare variano anche secondo il genere. Di più variano questi secondo la persona che esprimono.

I pronomi personali si declinano nella maniera seguente:

Pronome della prima persona dei generi mascolino e femminino.

SINGOLARE.			PLURALE.
Nom.	io.	I.	Nom.	noi	we.
Poss.	il mio, la mia.	} mine.	Poss.	il nostro, la nostra.	} ours.
	i miei, le mie.			i nostri, le nostre.
Obj.	Me, mi.	me.	Obj.	noi, ci.	us.

Pronome della seconda persona dei generi mascolino e femminino.

Nom.	tu.	thou.	Nom.	voi.	you (ye).
Poss.	il tuo, la tua.	} thine.	Poss.	il vostro, la vostra.	} yours.
	i tuoi, le tue.			i vostri, le vostre.
Obj.	te, ti.	thee.	Obj.	voi, vi.	you.

Pronome della terza persona.

MASCOLINO.

Nom.	egli.	he.	Nom.	eglino, essi.	they.
Poss.	il suo, la sua.	} his.	Poss.	il loro, la loro.	} theirs.
	i suoi, le sue.			i loro, le loro.
Obj.	lui, lo.	him.	Obj.	loro, li.	them.

FEMMININO.

Nom.	ella.	she.	Nom.	elleno.	they.
Poss.	il suo, la sua.	} hers.	Poss.	il loro, la loro.	} theirs.
	i suoi, le sue.			i loro, le loro.
Obj.	lei, la.	her.	Obj.	loro, le.	them.

NEUTRO.

Nom.	egli, ella.	it.	Nom.	eglino, elleno	they.
Poss.	il suo, la sua.	} its.	Poss.	il loro, la loro.	} theirs.
	i suoi, le sue.			i loro, le loro.
Obj.	lo, la.	it.	Obj.	li, le.	them.

Il pronome s'accorda col suo antecedente, cioè con il nome di cui fa le veci, in genere, in numero, ed in persona:

Questo è mio.	This is mine .
Questi sono tuoi.	These are thine .

Non v'ha differenza, qualunque sia il genere od il numero della cosa alla quale mine o thine si riferiscono:

Questo è suo (di lui) parlando di un uomo.	This is his .
Questi sono suoi, parlando egualmente di un maschio.	These are his .
Questo è suo (di lei), parlando di una donna.	This is hers .
Questi sono suoi, parlando egualmente di una femmina.	These are hers .

L'articolo definito non deve mai impiegarsi in inglese avanti a questi adiettivi pronominali possessivi.

Dei Pronomi relativi.

Si trovano in inglese quattro pronomi relativi, who, which, that, e what.

Who ha relazione solamente alle persone:

L'uomo che vi parla.	The man who speaks to you.
Il bambino che giuoca.	The boy who plays.

Which s'impiega per gli animali inferiori e per le cose:

La cosa che accadde.	The thing which happened.
Il cavallo che vedo.	The horse which I see.

Di questi due pronomi who si declina come segue:

SINGOLARE E PLURALE.

Nom. che, o il quale, la quale ec.	Who .
Poss. di che, di cui, del quale ec.	Whose .
Obj. che, cui, il quale ec.	Whom .

L'articolo si sopprime sempre dopo whose, davanti al nome della cosa posseduta, che deve mettersi subito dopo whose, e davanti al verbo:

L'uomo di cui vedo la casa.	The man whose house I see.
Mio figlio, di cui la vista è più acuta della mia.	My son, whose sight is keener than mine.

È d'uopo non perdere di vista che whose indica la possessione, e perciò dev'essere sempre seguito dal nome della cosa che appartiene alla persona rappresentata da whose:

L'uomo di cui la moglie è così virtuosa.	The man whose wife is so virtuous.
--	---

Ma quando non c'è questione di possessione, si dice: of whom invece di whose:

L'uomo di cui parlo.	The man of whom I speak.
----------------------	---------------------------------

Which è invariabile.

That s'impiega e per le persone, e per le cose, invece di who, o di which. Questa parola è pure invariabile:

L'uomo che ho veduto.	The man that I have seen.
La casa che ho comprato.	The house that I have bought.

That vien adoperato sempre quando si parla di una persona e di un animale inferiore, o di una cosa, nella stessa frase:

L'uomo ed il cavallo che sono nel prato. The man and the horse that are in the meadow.

That vien impiegato anche dopo il superlativo:

È l'uomo più ricco che conosca. He is the richest man that I know.

What è un pronome relativo composto, che corrisponde a quell che, ciò che, quelli che, ec., e tiene il luogo ad una volta delle due parole that o those e which. È invariabile:

Questo è ciò che voleva.

This is what (that which) I wanted.

Questi sono quelli che voleva.

These are what (those which) I wanted.

Mi dette quello che mi offerse.

He gave me what (that which) he offered me.

Dei Pronomi interrogativi.

I pronomi interrogativi non sono altro in inglese che i pronomi relativi, who, which, e what, impiegati con interrogazione.

1° Who, interrogativo, non si adopera che per le persone: corrisponde questo a chi? e subisce le medesime variazioni che il pronome relativo.

Chi è là?

Who is there?

Di chi è questo libro?

Whose book is this?

Chi conoscete?

Whom do you know?

2° Which interrogativo s'impiega egualmente per le persone, per gli animali, e per le cose; corrisponde alle parole italiane quale, quali: è invariabile, e può essere seguito immediatamente da un sostantivo. Which è sempre relativo:

Quale (di questi uomini) l'ha fatto?

Which (of these men) has done it?

Qual cavallo (fra questi cavalli) volete?

Which horse (one amongst others) do you wish for?

Quale (di questi libri) comprerò.

Which (of these books) shall I buy?

3° What si adopera egualmente per le persone, gli animali, e le cose. Corrisponde pure questo alle parole italiane, quale, quali. È invariabile. What non è mai relativo:

Che volete?

What do you want?

Che fate in questa casa?

What are you doing in this house?

Che cosa dite di quest'affare?

What do you say about this business?

DEI VERBI.

V'è solamente una sola coniugazione dei verbi inglesi. I verbi regolari hanno le loro terminazioni nel preterito e nel participio passato sempre in ed:

Amare.

To love.

Io, amava, o amai.

I loved.

Io, ho amato.

I have loved.

I verbi irregolari hanno diverse terminazioni nel preterito e nel participio passato.

Scrivere.

To write.

Io scriveva, io scrissi.

I wrote.

Io ho scritto.

I have written.

Si troverà una lista dei verbi irregolari alla fine di questa grammatica.

L'unico segno dell'infinito in inglese è la preposizione to: dopo le altre preposizioni s'impiega sempre il gerundio, od il participio presente, che vien espresso nella medesima maniera, e finisce sempre in ing:

Mi piace il lavorare.	I like to work.
Dopo aver pranzato.	After having dined.

Coniugazione dei Verbi.

Il verbo amare, to love, verbo regolare, che forma il preterito ed il participio passato in ed.

Il verbo scrivere, to write, verbo irregolare, che fa nel preterito wrote, e nel participio passato written.

MODO INDICATIVO.

INDICATIVE MOOD.

Tempo presente.

Present tense.

1^{ma} maniera.

1st manner.

Io amo.	scrivo.	I love.	write.
Tu ami.	scrivi.	Thou lovest.	writest.
Egli ama.	scrive.	He loves.	writes.
Noi amiamo.	scriviamo.	We love.	write.
Voi amate.	scrivete.	You love.	write.
Eglino amano.	scrivono.	They love.	write.

Vien impiegata questa maniera quando si parla di un'azione che si fa abitualmente al tempo presente:

Io scrivo ogni giorno a mio padre.	I write to my father every day.
Io ti amo di tutto cuore.	I love you heartily.

2^a maniera.

2^d manner.

Io scrivo o sto scrivendo.	I am writing .
Tu scrivi, ec.	Thou art writing .
Egli scrive, ec.	He is writing .
Noi scriviamo, ec.	We are writing .
Voi scrivete, ec.	You are writing .
Eglino scrivono, ec.	They are writing .

Si adopera questa maniera nel parlare di una azione attualmente presente, e che ha qualche durata:

Io scrivo a mio padre.	I am writing to my father.
Mio padre desina adesso.	My father is dining now.
Mio fratello legge.	My brother is reading .

Si adopera pure questa maniera nel parlare di una azione alquanto futura:

Vado a desinare.	I am going to dine.
Il mio amico va al teatro stasera.	My friend is going to the theatre this evening.

Ma non si usa questa maniera quando l'azione, quantunque attualmente presente, ha pochissima durata:

Odo un colpo di tuono.	I hear a clap of thunder.
Vedo un lampo.	I see a flash of lightning.

NB. — Non può impiegarsi questa maniera con il verbo amare, perchè non è un verbo che esprime un'azione della natura indicata dal verbo scrivere ec., ma piuttosto un'azione abituale:

3 ^a maniera.		3 ^d manner.
Io amo.	scrivo.	I do love.	write.
Tu ami.	scrivi.	Thou dost love.	write.
Egli ama.	scrive.	He does love.	write.
Noi amiamo.	scriviamo.	We do love.	write.
Voi amate.	scrivete.	You do love.	write.
Eglino amano.	scrivono.	They do love.	write.

S'impiega questa maniera, invece della prima, nelle frasi affermative, solamente quando si vuol dare gran forza od energia all'asseverazione:

Io vi amo.	I do love you.
Io scrivo a mio padre ogni giorno.	I write to my father every day.
Non lo credo.	I do not believe it.
Sì, vi assicuro che gli scrivo ogni giorno.	Yes, I assure you I do write to him every day.

NB. — Questa maniera non è mai di rigore nelle frasi affermative; aggiunge però molta energia all'espressione. Nelle frasi negative od interrogative è d'uopo sempre l'impiego d'un verbo ausiliario, e quando non trovasi un altro ausiliario nella frase, impiegasi il verbo ausiliario do:

Io non vi amo.	I do not love you.
Non mi vede.	He does not see me.
Mi amate?	Do you love me?
Vedete quell'uccello?	Do you see that bird?

NB. — Il verbo osare, to dare, è un'eccezione a questa regola:

Non oso.	I dare not.
Osate farlo?	Dare you do it?

Tempo passato.	Past tense.
Passato definito.	Past definite.
1 ^{ma} maniera.	1 st manner.

Io amava, io amai.	scriveva, scrissi.	I loved,	wrote.
Tu amavi, tu amasti.	scrivevi, scrivesti.	Thou lovedst,	wrotest.
Egli amava, egli amò.	scriveva, scrisse.	He loved,	wrote.
Noi amavamo, noi amammo.	scrivevamo, scrivemmo.	We loved,	wrote.
Voi amavate, voi amaste.	scrivevate, scriveste.	You loved,	wrote.
Eglino amavano, eglino amarono.	scrivevano, scrissero.	They loved,	wrote.

Devesi adoperare questa maniera quando si parla di un'azione non solamente passata, ma quando il tempo in cui s'esprime che l'azione fosse fatta, è pure intieramente passata:

Scrissi ieri al mio amico.	I wrote to my friend yesterday.
Vidi vostro padre nella settimana passata.	I saw your father last week.
Visitai la chiesa di San Pietro ogni giorno quando era in Roma.	I visited St. Peter's every day when I was in Rome.

In queste frasi si osserverà che si parla di un tempo intieramente passato — ieri, la settimana passata, e quando era in Roma.

2^a maniera.

Imperfetto.

Io scriveva, o stava scrivendo.
Tu scrivevi, ec.
Egli scriveva, ec.
Noi scrivevamo, ec.
Voi scrivevate, ec.
Eglino scrivevano, ec.

2nd manner.

Imperfect.

I was writing.
Thou wast writing.
He was writing.
We were writing.
You were writing.
They were writing.

Questa maniera s'impiega quando si parla di due azioni passate, una delle quali non era finita al tempo che l'altra azione ebbe luogo:

Io scriveva a mio padre quando entrò egli. I was writing to my father when he entered (came in).
Io stava pranzando quando il principe venne. I was dining when the prince came.

N.B. — Con il verbo amare non si può adoperare questa maniera, per la ragione indicata nel parlare della seconda maniera d'impiegare il tempo presente.

3^a maniera.

Passato definito.

Io amava, amai. scriveva, scrissi.
Tu amavi, amasti. scrivevi, scrivesti.
Egli amava, amò. scriveva, scrisse.
Noi amavamo, amammo. scrivevamo, scrivemmo.
Voi amavate, amaste. scrivevate, scriveste.
Eglino amavano, amarono. scrivevano, scrissero.

3^d manner.

Past definite.

I did love, write.
Thou didst love, write.
He did love, write.
We did love, write.
You did love, write.
They did love, write.

Questa maniera trovasi nelle frasi affermative solamente per dar forza all'asseverazione intorno ad una cosa passata:

Vi scrisse tre volte ieri. I wrote to you three times yesterday.
Non posso crederlo. I cannot believe it.
Sì io scrissi tre volte. Yes I did write three times.

4^a maniera.

Passato indefinito.

Io ho amato. scritto.
Tu hai amato. scritto.
Egli ha amato. scritto.
Noi abbiamo amato. scritto.
Voi avete amato. scritto.
Eglino hanno amato. scritto.

4th manner.

Past indefinite.

I have loved. written.
Thou hast loved. written.
He has loved. written.
We have loved. written.
You have loved. written.
They have loved. written.

Impiegasi questa maniera:

1° Quando il tempo in cui un'azione passata fu fatta non vien indicato:

Quanto ho amato quella donna. How much I have loved that woman.
Ho spesso scritto trenta lettere in un giorno. I have often written thirty letters in a day.

2° Quando il tempo nel quale si dice che un'azione passata fu fatta non è ancora terminato:

Oggi ho scritto a vostra madre. I have written to your mother to day.
Sono stato in Parigi in quest'anno. I have been at Paris this year.

Qui si osserverà che si parla di un tempo non ancora finito: oggi, e quest'anno.

5^a maniera.

Più che perfetto.

Io aveva o ebbi amato,	scritto.
Tu avevi o avesti amato,	scritto.
Egli aveva o ebbe amato,	scritto.
Noi avevamo o avemmo amato,	scritto.
Voi avevate o aveste amato,	scritto.
Eglino avevano o ebbero amato,	scritto.

5th manner.

Pluperfect.

I had loved.	written.
Thou hadst loved.	written.
He had loved.	written.
We had loved.	written.
You had loved.	written.
They had loved.	written.

Usasi questa maniera nel parlare di due azioni passate, una delle quali era già finita al tempo che l'altra accadde:

Aveva già scritto a mio padre, quando I had already written to my father entrò. when he came in.

Aveva pranzato quando il principe entrò. He had dined when the prince entered.

Tempo futuro.

Futuro semplice.

Io amerò.	scriverò.
Tu amerai.	scriverai.
Egli amerà.	scriverà.
Noi ameremo.	scriveremo.
Voi amerete.	scriverete.
Eglino ameranno.	scriveranno.

Future Tense.

Simple future.

I shall love.	write.
Thou wilt love.	write.
He will love.	write.
We shall love.	write.
You will love.	write.
They will love.	write.

Futuro volitivo o imperioso.

Io amerò.	scriverò.
Tu amerai.	scriverai.
Egli amerà.	scriverà.
Noi ameremo.	scriveremo.
Voi amerete.	scriverete.
Eglino ameranno.	scriveranno.

Volitive or imperious future.

I will love.	write.
Thou shalt love.	write.
He shall love.	write.
We will love.	write.
You shall love.	write.
They shall love.	write.

Futuro anteriore o composto.

Io avrò amato.	scritto.
Tu avrai amato.	scritto.
Egli avrà amato.	scritto.
Noi avremo amato.	scritto.
Voi avrete amato.	scritto.
Eglino avranno amato.	scritto.

Anterior or compound future.

I shall have loved.	written.
Thou wilt have loved.	written.
He will have loved.	written.
We shall have loved.	written.
You will have loved.	written.
They will have loved.	written.

Vi sono due segni in inglese per esprimere il futuro, shall, e will. L'impiego non erroneo di questi segni, e di quelli del condizionale, forma forse una delle più grandi difficoltà di quella lingua.

Il primo futuro, ossia il futuro semplice, esprime semplicemente che un'azione probabilmente accadrà. Nelle frasi affermative e negative s'impiega shall per la prima persona, e *will*¹ per la seconda e la terza.

¹ Nella seconda persona al singolare, poco usata, will viene cangiato in wilt.

Andrò a Parigi nell'anno veniente.	I shall go to Paris next year.
Sarà punito, se fa quello.	He will be punished if he does that.
Faremo un cattivo affare con questa speculazione.	We shall make a bad business of this speculation.
Sarete punito, se fate quello.	You will be punished if you do that.

Il secondo futuro, ossia il futuro volitivo od imperioso, esprime che un'azione sarà fatta per la volontà, o secondo il comandamento di colui che parla. Nelle frasi affermative e negative will impiegasi per la prima persona, e shall per la seconda e la terza:

Sarò savio babbo.	I will be good papa.
Lo farò, se vi piace o no.	I will do it, whether you wish or not.
Non andrete con quella gente.	You shall not go with those people.
Mio figlio non entrerà in quella casa.	My son shall not go into that house.
I miei amici non saranno puniti, se potrò impedirlo.	My friends shall not be punished, if I can help it.

Nelle frasi interrogative si adopera sempre shall per la prima persona:

Andrò oggi in città?	Shall I go to town to day?
Andremo domani a Parigi?	Shall we go to Paris to morrow?

Per la seconda persona si adopera shall o will secondo le circostanze.

Shall, quando la volontà della persona a cui si parla non entra molto nella risposta, e quando la risposta è per riuscire indifferente a colui che domanda:

Andrete a Firenze quest'anno?	Shall you go to Florence this year?
Farete viaggio questa state?	Shall you travel this summer?

Will quando la volontà della persona a cui si parla entra nella risposta, e quando la risposta non è indifferente a colui che domanda:

Pranzerete oggi meco?	Will you dine with me to day?
Volete venire con noi in città?	Will you come to town with us?

Per la terza persona si usa quasi sempre will:

Verrà egli questa sera?	Will he come this evening?
Andrà vostro padre a Milano domani?	Will your father go to Milan to morrow?
Quando ritornerà il principe?	When will the prince return?

Il terzo futuro, ossia il futuro anteriore o composto, vien impiegato quando si parla di un tempo che sarà già passato in un'epoca indicata nella frase. Questo futuro, come il futuro semplice, prende sempre shall alla prima persona, e will alla seconda e terza:

Avrò finito questo lavoro fra dodici giorni.	I shall have finished this work in twelve days.
Sarò stato qui un anno il giorno di Pasqua.	I shall have been here a year on Easter-day.
Avrete ricevuti tre premj quando avrete ricevuto questo.	You will have received three prizes when you have had this.
Sarà stato nell'armata trent'anni il primo d' Aprile.	He will have been in the army thirty years on the first of April.

CONDIZIONALE.

Condizionale semplice.

Io amerei.	scriverei.
Tu amaresti.	scriveresti.
Egli amerebbe.	scriverebbe.
Noi ameremmo.	scriveremmo.
Voi amereste.	scrivereste.
Eglino amerebbero.	scriverebbero.

Condizionale volitivo.

Io amerei (vorrei amare).	scriverei.
Tu amaresti.	scriveresti.
Egli amerebbe.	scriverebbe.
Noi ameremmo.	scriveremmo.
Voi amereste.	scrivereste.
Eglino amerebbero.	scriverebbero.

Condizionale obbligativo.

Io amerei (dovrei amare).	scriverei.
Tu amaresti.	scriveresti.
Egli amerebbe.	scriverebbe.
Noi ameremmo.	scriveremmo.
Voi amereste.	scrivereste.
Eglino amerebbero.	scriverebbero.

Condizionale anteriore composto.

Semplice.

Io avrei amato.	scritto.
Tu avresti amato.	scritto.
Egli avrebbe amato.	scritto.
Noi avremmo amato.	scritto.
Voi avreste amato.	scritto.
Eglino avrebbero amato.	scritto.

Volitivo.

Io avrei amato (avrei voluto amare)	scritto.
Tu avresti amato.	scritto.
Egli avrebbe amato.	scritto.
Noi avremmo amato.	scritto.
Voi avreste amato.	scritto.
Eglino avrebbero amato.	scritto.

Obbligativo.

Io avrei amato (avrei dovuto amare)	scritto.
Tu avresti amato.	scritto.
Egli avrebbe amato.	scritto.
Noi avremmo amato.	scritto.
Voi avreste amato.	scritto.
Eglino avrebbero amato.	scritto.

CONDITIONAL.

Simple conditional.

I should love.	write.
Thou would'st love,	write.
He would love.	write.
We should love.	write.
You would love.	write.
They would love.	write.

Volitive conditional.

I would love.	write.
Thou would'st love.	write.
He would love.	write.
We would love.	write.
You would love.	write.
They would love.	write.

Obbligative conditional.

I should love.	write.
Thou should'st love.	write.
He should love.	write.
We should love.	write.
You should love.	write.
They should love.	write.

Anterior or compound conditional.

Simple.

I should have loved.	written.
Thou would'st have loved.	written.
He would have loved.	written.
We should have loved.	written.
You would have loved.	written.
They would have loved.	written.

Volitive.

I would have loved.	written.
Thou would'st have loved.	written.
He would have loved.	written.
We would have loved.	written.
You would have loved.	written.
They would have loved.	written.

Obbligative.

I should have loved.	written.
Thou should'st have loved.	written.
He should have loved.	written.
We should have loved.	written.
You should have loved.	written.
They should have loved.	written.

I due segni del condizionale sono should e would.

Il primo condizionale, che si può chiamare il condizionale semplice, cioè a dire, che indica semplicemente che un'azione accaderebbe, se un'altra azione fosse fatta, prende should alla prima persona, e would alla seconda e alla terza:

Sarei bagnato, se uscissi colla pioggia.	I should be wet, if I went out in the rain.
Saremmo molto sciocchi se facessimo quello.	We should be very foolish to do that.
Sareste rovinato, se faceste quello.	You would be ruined if you did that.
Sarebbe più ricco, se spendesse meno.	He would be richer if he spent less.
Sarebbero meno felici, se fossero meno virtuosi.	They would be less happy, if they were less virtuous.

Il secondo Condizionale, che puossi chiamare il Condizionale volitivo, cioè a dire, che indica che un'azione accaderebbe per volontà di qualcuno, assoggettata a qualche condizione od espressa o sottintesa, prende would per tutte le persone:

Vorrei venir in casa vostra stasera se potessi.	I would come to your house this evening if I could.
Vorremmo ben intraprendere quell'affare, se i denari non mancassero.	We would willingly undertake this business if (the) money were not wanting.
Non vorreste formar amicizia con quell'uomo, se lo conosceste.	You would not form a friendship with that man if you knew him.
Non vorrebbe entrare in quel servizio se conoscesse la schiavitù a cui sarebbe assoggettato.	He would not enter into that service did he know the slavery to which he would be exposed.

Il terzo Condizionale, che si può chiamare il Condizionale obbligativo, cioè a dire, che indica che un'azione dovrebbe accadere, o che sarebbe dovere di qualcuno di farla, prende should per tutte le persone.

NB. — Non è sempre condizionale questo segno, ma piuttosto soggiuntivo, esprimendo il dovere che esiste di fare un'azione, senza nessuna condizione od espressa o sottintesa:

Dovrei fare tante cose, se intraprendessi quell'impiego.	I should do so many things if I undertook that office.
Dovrebbe essere caritatevole, se fosse ricco.	He should be charitable if he were rich.
Dovreste andare a vedere vostro zio, perchè è ammalato.	You should go and see your uncle, because he is sick.

Corrisponde precisamente a questa terza maniera d'esprimere il Condizionale, l'ausiliario ought, che vien sempre preceduto dalla preposizione to: così si può dire egualmente nelle ultime frasi:

Dovrei far tante cose &c.	I ought to do so many things &c.
---------------------------	---

Il quarto Condizionale, che si può chiamare il Condizionale anteriore semplice, esprime che un'azione passata sarebbe accaduta, se le circostanze lo avessero permesso. Prende should per la prima persona, e would per la seconda e per la terza:

Vi avrei scritto ieri, se avessi avuto tempo.	I should have written to you yesterday, if I had had time.
Il mio amico sarebbe stato rovinato, se avesse fatto quello.	My friend would have been ruined if he had done that.
Sareste stato molto sciocco se aveste mancato a quel dovere.	You would have been very foolish, had you failed in that duty.

Il quinto Condizionale, che si può chiamare il Condizionale anteriore volitivo, esprime che un'azione sarebbe accaduta con la volontà di qualcuno, se le circostanze lo avessero permesso. Prende would per tutte le persone:

Avrei ben voluto venir ieri a casa vostra, ma non ho potuto.	I would have come to your house yesterday, but I could not.
Non avreste voluto fare quell'azione, se ne aveste preveduto tutte le conseguenze.	You would not have done that action, had you foreseen all its consequences.
Non avrebbero voluto intercedere per quell'uomo, se avessero conosciuto il suo carattere.	They would not have interceded for that man, had they known his character.

Il sesto Condizionale, che si può chiamare il Condizionale anteriore obbligativo, esprime che un'azione avrebbe dovuto accadere facendo qualcuno una cosa dovuta. Prende should per tutte le persone:

Avrei dovuto andar ieri a vedere mio zio perchè era ammalato.	I should have gone to see my uncle yesterday because he was ill.
Non avrebbe dovuto fare una tale azione.	He should not have committed such an action.

MODO IMPERATIVO.

IMPERATIVE MOOD.

Lasciatemi amare.	lasciatemi scrivere.	Let me love.	let me write.
Ama.	scrivi.	Love (thou).	write (thou).
Ami.	scriva.	Let him love.	let him write.
Amiamo.	scriviamo.	Let us love.	let us write.
Amate.	scrivete.	Love (you).	write (you).
Amino.	scrivano.	Let them love.	let them write.

Nel modo imperativo s'impiega il segno let per la prima e per la terza persona; per la seconda persona il verbo rimane come all'infinito senza la preposizione to, che è il solo segno dell'infinito:

Lasciatemi scrivere la mia lettera in pace.	Let me write my letter in peace.
Scrivi a tuo padre.	Write to thy father.
Amiamoci (l'un l'altro).	Let us love one another.
Mangino subito il loro pranzo.	Let them eat their dinner directly.

NB. — Dopo il segno let, il pronome personale vien sempre impiegato come l'oggetto, e mai come il soggetto della frase:

Lasciatemi.	lasciatelo.	Let me.	let him.
Lasciateci.	lasciate loro.	Let us.	let them.

MODO POTENZIALE.

Voi potevate amare.	scrivere.	You might love.	write.
Eglino potevano amare.	scrivere.	They might love.	write.

I segni can e could s'impiegano quando si parla di un potere fisico che si possiede o possedeva per far qualunque cosa, ed i segni may e might quando si discorre di un potere che viene, o di qualche permesso dato da un altro, o da qualche circostanza incerta:

Posso alzare questo peso.	I can lift this weight.
Egli può camminare ben cinquanta miglia in una giornata.	He can walk fully fifty miles in a day.
Che! non potete leggere le lettere greche?	What! can't you read the Greek letters?
Poteva alzare ieri questo peso, ma oggi non lo posso.	I could lift this weight yesterday, but to day I cannot.
Poteva camminare cinquanta miglia in una giornata quando era giovane.	I could walk fifty miles in a day when I was young.
Potrebbe far ciò se volesse.	He could do that if he would.
Posso venire forse domani.	I may perhaps come tomorrow.
Può piovere, ma non lo credo.	It may rain, but I do not think it will.
Potete leggere questo libro, poichè vostro padre ve lo ha permesso.	You may read this book, since your father has given you leave.
Potrei cadere, se montassi quella scala.	I might fall if I got up on that ladder.
Il re potrebb'essere scontento.	The king might be displeased.

NB. — Nei tempi composti con il verbo avere, s'impiegano i medesimi segni che nei tempi semplici.

MODO SOGGIUNTIVO.

SUBJUNCTIVE MOOD.

Tempo presente.

Present Tense.

Se io ami.	scriva.	If I love,	write.
Se tu ami.	scriva.	If thou love.	write.
Se egli ami.	scriva.	If he love.	write.
Se noi amiamo.	scriviamo.	If we love.	write.
Se voi amiate.	scrivate.	If you love.	write.
Se eglino amino.	scrivano.	If they love.	write.

Tempo passato.

Past Tense.

Se io amassi.	scrivessi.	If I loved.	wrote.
Se tu amassi.	scrivessi.	If thou loved.	wrote.
Se egli amasse.	scrivesse.	If he loved.	wrote.
Se noi amassimo.	scrivessimo.	If we loved.	wrote.
Se voi amaste.	scriveste.	If you loved.	wrote.
Se eglino amassero.	scrivessero.	If they loved.	wrote.

Il modo soggiuntivo è adesso pochissimo impiegato in inglese, e solamente nei casi che esprimono un forte dubbio: con il verbo essere, specialmente al tempo presente, farebbe bene lo scolare di non usarlo mai:

Se mi scriva, gli risponderò.	If he write (o writes) to me, I will answer him.
Se fossi re, non commetterei una tale azione.	If I were a king, I would not do such an action.
Se fosse ricco, sarebbe più generoso di voi.	If he were rich, he would be more generous than you.

MODO INFINITO.		INFINITIVE MOOD.
Tempo presente.		Present Tense.
amare.	scrivere.	to love.	to write.
Tempo passato.		Past Tense.
aver amato.	avere scritto.	to have loved.	to have written.

Vien usato l'infinito al tempo presente quando parlasi di un'azione o presente o futura:

Non si deve mangiare tanto quanto mangiate voi.	It is not well to eat so much as you (do).
È un piacere di fare azioni caritatevoli.	It is a pleasure to perform charitable actions.
Dobbiamo andare al teatro stasera.	We are to go to the theatre this evening.

Dopo tutti i segni dei tempi, eccettuato il segno ought, la preposizione to si omette. Questa preposizione è in inglese il solo segno dell'infinito:

Posso farlo.	I can- do it.
Bisogna che io lo faccia.	I must- do it.
Lo farò.	I will- do it.
Dovrei farlo.	I should- do it (I ought to do it.)

Ma questa preposizione non si omette dopo i verbi essere ed avere quando vengono questi impiegati come verbi principali:

Dovrei pranzare con lui oggi.	I am to dine with him to day.
Dovrei dividere questo con voi.	I have to divide this with you.

L'infinito s'impiega al passato quando si parla di un'azione passata:

Avrei dovuto scrivere ieri a mio padre.	I ought to have written to my father yesterday.
Avrebbe dovuto prendere la sua medicina tre ore sono.	He should have taken his medicine three hours ago.

Participio presente.	Present participle.
amante (amando) scrivente (scrivendo)	loving. writing.

Si adopera il participio presente od il gerundio, in inglese, in luogo dell'infinito, dopo tutte le preposizioni, eccettuato la preposizione to:

Sono stanco di aspettare.	I am tired of waiting.
Parti senza mangiare il suo desinare.	He set off without eating his dinner.
Udi l'accusa senza arrossire.	He heard the accusation without blushing.

NB. — In inglese il participio presente ed il gerundio vengono espressi con la medesima parola.

Participio passato.		Past participle.
amato.	scritto.	loved.	written.

Il participio passato si adopera dopo gli ausiliarij essere ed avere:

Ho scritto.	I have written.
Sono rovinato.	I am ruined.
Sarò punito.	I shall be punished.
Bisogna che sia perduto.	He must be lost.

Dei verbi irregolari.

I verbi irregolari inglesi sono irregolari in due tempi soli, cioè al preterito ed al participio passato.

DEI GRADI DI PARAGONE.

I gradi di paragone degli addiettivi² si formano in inglese in due maniere, o coll'aggiungere er al comparativo, ed est al superlativo, o col premettere more avanti al comparativo, e most avanti al superlativo.

La prima maniera si adopera quando l'addiettivo è di una sola sillaba: great, grande; greater, più grande; the greatest, il più grande; o quando l'addiettivo, essendo di più di una sillaba, termina con un y: happy, felice; happier, più felice; the happiest, il più felice.

La seconda maniera, per evitare la cacofonia, adoperasi quando l'addiettivo è di più di una sillaba, e non termina con un y: powerful, potente; more powerful, più potente; the most powerful, il più potente; magnificent, magnifico; more magnificent, più magnifico; the most magnificent, il più magnifico.

Rispetto alle parole che terminano con un y, si possono impiegare egualmente ambidue le maniere sopra indicate: così, con la parola happy (felice), si può dire o happier o more happy, più felice, o the happiest, o the most happy, il più felice; e quanto alla parola handsome (bello), quantunque sia di due sillabe, si può dire a scelta, o handsomer o more handsome, più bello, o the handsomest, o the most handsome, il più bello.

² Degli addiettivi vedi a pag. XIII e seguenti.

DIZIONARIO

A.

A, is the first letter in the alphabet, and the first of the vowels. A signifies beginning, as Z, the last letter, signifies ending: hence the phrase "cominciare a dire A," means to commence a thing. "Essere all' A," to have scarcely commenced, and "essere alla Z," to have nearly terminated any thing.

The Tuscan sound of A is generally like the same letter in English, when followed by R in the same syllable, as in bar, mar, tar, etc. though it is pronounced somewhat more broadly and openly; the words ah and father may also serve to give a somewhat close approximation to the sound of this letter, and in French such words as blamer, déclamer, enfamer, may be considered as sufficiently similar.

A, prep., serves for various locutions and constructions, marking different relations, and may be expressed in English by the particles to, at, in, by, with, under, and.

It is rendered by to, when used to express motion towards a place. "Vado a Londra. I am going to London." "Venne da noi. He came to our house."

By at, when no motion is expressed, and the usual habitation of a person is designated, unless such place be in some very large city. "Sto a Prato. I live at Prato."

By in, when such place of habitation is designated, being a large city: "Mio padre dimora a Londra. My father lives in London."

By by, when it expresses agency: "a forza di braccio, by strength of arm." "Lo zuccherò si vende a peso, sugar is sold by weight." "A mente, by heart."

By with, when expressing an action of some part of the body. "A occhi chiusi, with closed eyes; "a bocca aperta, with open mouth."

By under, when it expresses dependence or submission. "Tutto il reggimento era al mio comando. The whole regiment was under my command."

By and, when it designs partition or distribution. "due a due, by two and two."

A is also used in many different modes of locution. The following are a few examples. "A cavallo, on horseback." "A contante, for ready money, for cash." "A credito, on trust." "A buon mercato, cheap." "A quest'ora, by this time." "A destra, on the right hand." "A mezzo giorno, towards the South." "A che pro?, of what use?" "A che piangete?, why do you cry?" "Ponte a Santa Trinita, Trinity bridge." "A quaresima, at Lent." "Oggi a otto, this day week." "Lettera di cambio a sei mesi, a bill of exchange at six months." "A malizia, maliciously." "A vele spiegate, with unfurled sails." "Circa a, about." "Rispetto a, concerning." "All'aspetto mi par signora. By his appearance he seems to be a gentleman." "Vestire all'inglese, to dress in the English fashion." A is also used in many adverbial expressions, as will be seen in the course of this work.

H.

H, has no real sound, but is used after c and g when followed by e or i, to render the sound hard, as in cheto (quiet), China (China), &c. It is used in the verb acere, as ho, hai, ha, hanno, and in some other words, but is never aspirated in Italian.

Ha! [há] interrogative particle, eh? avere bisogno to be in need of. ha? did I want to hear your lies, eh?

I.

I, is the cousin-german of H, as has been before said when speaking of the former letter. It is often used before the s in impura, that is s followed by another consonant, to prevent the harsh sound of too many consonants, as in Ispagna, instead of in Spagna (in Spain), in ispirito, instead of in spirito (in spirit, or in the spirit). I has the sound of E in English, Iu- me (a river) being pronounced like the e in fever. At the commencement of syllables when followed by M or N, it has the same sound as in English before the same letters: immaculato,

- immaculate; independent, independent, &c.*

J.

J, this letter has been of late roughly treated by some philologists, and it has been attempted to expunge it altogether from the Italian alphabet. It will be seen that I have not adhered to this opinion, as it appears to me that inconveniences and anomalies would flow from its adoption, which it is most desirable to avoid. In the first place the banishment of this letter from the Italian alphabet after its long continued use and adoption by many writers of acknowledged merit and almost classical authority, would create no slight confusion, and would well-nigh amount to a reformation in orthography, a thing equally difficult and undesirable. In the next place it would altogether set aside the logical distinction given by many grammarians as to the orthography in the plural of words ending in to short in the singular, such as principio (a beginning), ventaglio, a fan &c. and would confound them in an unseemly manner with those terminating in io long, in which the plural is rightly written with double i, as in mormorio, murmur; ronzio, buzzing; zio, an uncle &c. Alterations evidently improving the orthography of a language may be admitted, though even in such case sparingly and with judgment; those that would increase the difficulty of the orthography, as the omission of the j would undoubtedly do, should in all cases be avoided. These observations are of course offered with much diffidence by a foreigner; but I have at least the satisfaction of knowing that I do not differ with the majority of Italian writers, but only with certain philologists who may be considered as somewhat in the light of purists.
